

http://www.news24.com/Content/World/News/1073/56bbfca7fcba4083bfa2fb7a746621a5/12-01-2010-07-22/US_condemns_Iran_spy_trial

The US Commission on International Religious Freedom, a non-partisan official body that advises the US government, criticised Iran last week for "ramping up vilification" of Bahais in light of recent unrest.

President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad's disputed June re-election triggered a wave of opposition protest amid charges that the vote was marred by massive fraud.

At least 300 of those arrested during protests are still held in Tehran, police say.